Also, I and my wife, Margaret, have a shop and a small hotel.

I live and work on the island of Gigha in the west of Scotland. Only 20 people live there but in summer, 150 tourists come by boat everyday.

Every weekday I get up at 6a.m and make breakfast for the hotel guests. At 8a.m I drive the island's children to school. At 9 a.m I collect the post from the boat and deliver it to all the houses on the islands. I also deliver the beer to the island's only pub. Then I help Margaret in the shop.

My wife likes being busy, too. We never have holidays and we don't watch TV. In the evenings, Margaret makes super and I do the accounts. At 10 p.m we have a glass of wine and then we go to bed. Perhaps, our life isn't very exciting but we like it.

❖ Read the passage below and choose the best answer for each question.

When robots are widely used in the home, they will probably be used to do the cleaning, table-laying, scrubbing (cọ rửa) and washing-up, but it is considered unlikely that they will be used to do the cooking – at least, not in the near future.

In factories, mobile robots are already used to carry out a large number of the distribution and assembly tasks while human beings carry out research and produce plans for new products. Among the numerous jobs on the farm, robots will drive tractors, keeping their eyes on the ground in front to guide the tractor along a straight line.

The majority of the robots used at present do not look like human beings at all because their design is chiefly functional.

31. According to the passage, when used at home, robots will probably do all of the following EXCEPT _____

- A. laying the table B. washing the dishes C. washing the clothes D. scrubbing

32. In factories what are robots used to do?

- A. carry out assembly tasks B. carry out research
C. produce plans D. both B and C

33. The word "their" in paragraph 2 refers to _____.

- A. tractors' B. robots' C. people's D. farms'

34. Why don't robots at present look like human beings?

- A. Because they are widely used at home.
B. Because they are mainly used in factories.
C. Because they are only used to guide tractors.

D. Because they are mainly produced according to their function.

35. Which of the following statements is NOT true about robots?

- A. They will be used to do the cleaning.
- B. In the near future they will be used to cook.
- C. They are already used to carry out the distribution tasks.
- D. They will be used to drive the tractor.

❖ Read the passage below and choose one correct answer for each question.

Many people still believe that natural resources will never be used up. Actually, the world's energy resources are limited. No body knows exactly how much fuel is left. However, we also should use them economically and try to find out alternative sources of power. According to Professor Marvin Burnham of the New England Institute of Technology, we have to start conserving coal, oil and gas before it is too late and nuclear power is the only alternative.

However, many people don't approve of using nuclear power because it is very dangerous. What would happen if there were a serious nuclear accident? Radioactivity causes cancer and may badly affect the future generations.

The most effective thing is that we should use natural resources as economical as possible.
